N64™ Controller

IN THE ZONE '98

CONTROL STICK FUNCTION

The Nintendo 64 Controller contains a Control Stick which uses an analog system to read the angles and direction of its movement. This allows subtle control that is not possible using the conventional + Control Pad.

When turning the Control Deck power ON, do not move the Control Stick from its neutral position on the controller.

If the Control Stick is held at an angled position (as shown in the picture on the left) when the power is turned ON, this position will be set as neutral. This will cause games using the Control Stick to operate incorrectly.

To reset the neutral position once the game has started, let go of the Control Stick so it can return to its center position (as shown in the picture on the left) then press START while holding the L and R Buttons.

The Control Stick is a precision instrument, make sure not to spill liquids or place any foreign objects into it.

IN THE ZONE '98

CONTROLLER PAK ERROR MESSAGES

ABOUT THE RUMBLE PAK

This game is compatible with the Rumble Pak (sold separately). If a Rumble Pak is connected to your controller, the controller may vibrate when you slam dunk the ball or during a hard foul.

When playing the game with a Controller Pak, start the game with the Controller Pak attached to your controller, and follow the instructions on screen to detach the Controller Pak and attach the Rumble Pak.

To save or load data, follow the instructions on screen to detach the Rumble Pak and reattach the Controller Pak.

IN THE ZONE '98

GAME RULES

There are four quarters in the game of 3, 5, 8, or 12 minutes each.
 • You can set the length of each quarter from "Qtr. Length" in "Options". If both teams have the same score at the end of the last quarter, the game goes into overtime to decide the winner. If there is no winner at the end of the overtime period, the overtime period is repeated as many times as necessary to determine a winner.

You receive 3 points for baskets thrown from outside the 3 point line, 1 point for successful free throws awarded after being fouled, and 2 points for other baskets.

FOULING

There are basically two types of fouls, violations and fouls. If you commit a violation, the game resumes with a throw-in by the other team. If you foul, the penalty depends on whether your team is playing offense or defense.

If the team playing defense fouls an opponent when he is shooting, the offensive team is awarded a free throw. All other defense fouls are penalized with the offensive team throwing in the ball to resume the game. If the team playing offense fouls an opponent, the defensive team throws in the ball to resume the game.

Out of bounds: Occurs when the ball goes out of the court past the side or end lines. The game resumes with a throw-in from the place the ball went out.

Shot clock violation: The opposing team gets possession of the ball if a player on the offensive team fails to shoot within 24 seconds.

10 second violation: The opposing team gets possession of the ball if a player fails to dribble the ball into the opposing team's end of the court within 10 seconds.

5 second violation: The opposing team gets possession of the ball if a player fails to throw the ball into the court within 5 seconds.

3 second violation: The opposing team gets possession of the ball if a player stands in the paint area of the end of the court his team is attacking for more than 3 seconds.

IN THE ZONE '98

Back court: Occurs when the offensive team dribbles the ball into the opposing team's end of the court, then back into its own end of the court.

Traveling: A violation that occurs when a player runs further than the permitted distance without dribbling the ball.

Goal tending: Occurs when a player tries to shoot a basket but the opposing team knocks the ball away from the ring before it goes in. The shot is considered a goal and points awarded accordingly.

Foul out: If a player fouls 6 times, he is sent off the court and cannot play again in that game.

FT. penalty situations: If a team fouls 5 times, the other team is awarded a free throw.
 • You can change the fouls and violations listed in the box from "Rules" in "Options".
